1. Organic agriculture has become a popular topic and has taken a momentum today. However, some people argued that it is not a new concept at all as our olden farmers had been practiced it solely in their fields. Because of number of proven benefits deserved by the organic agricultural practices, Uva Wellassa University has decided to promote organic agriculture in Badulla District. Being a final year student seeking for bachelor degree in agriculture, you have been asked to submit a brief proposal to investigate the current level of organic agricultural practices adopted by the farmers in Badulla District and their level of awareness.

Answer the followings;

- a) Give a suitable title to the proposal
- b) Use an appropriate proposal format
- c) Briefly explain the essential elements of the proposal
